Unsung Heroes

Beth Jacob acknowledges Chani Pinthus (left) and Natalie Sobel for overseeing children's activities at the shul. Chani designed and implemented the Israel, Memories & Longing program at the Hebrew school. Natalie runs Torah for Tots during holidays and various Shabbat services. Their efforts are helping to make our shul a thriving and welcoming place!

Going from Strength to Strength

Without a doubt, one of this year's highlights was One Muslim. One Jew. One Stage, The Laugh In Peace Tour on May 2. Pictured above, our own Ira Greenspoon with comedians Rabbi Bob Alper and Azhar Usman. Beth Jacob thanks the evening's sponsors, Fowler & Associates Private Client Financial Services, National Computer Professionals and Lorne Finkelstein, M.D.

GREETINGS

MESSAGE FROM THE CO-PRESIDENTS

Dear Chevre,

As the anniversary of our second year as co-presidents approaches, this is an appropriate time to reflect on the progress which we have all made here at the Beth Jacob. With our new Rabbi in place, our school reset with a new direction and confirmed leadership, and an increasing solid commitment from within our lay community, the stage is set for an exciting future and reestablishment of a vibrant congregation at our shul.

Our star performer, Rabbi Dan Selsberg, continues to gain our admiration with his integrity, intelligence, compassion and wonderful sense of humour. Inspirational spiritual leadership is the most essential element in creating a thriving synagogue and we are delighted to say that we've got it covered. We are also thrilled to have the other half of this dynamic duo, Karen Selsberg as our new educational director. Karen is assuming the key leadership role in the renewal of our Hebrew School, She'arim, a thriving centre of Jewish education and living experiences for all children from within our community. We are also fortunate to have Cantor Ben Sharpe, whose delivery on the bima and in our chapel seems mature beyond his years, as he beautifully chants and leads us in through Shabbat and holiday services.

Of course, no shul can function without the commitment and dedication of a strong lay leadership and ours is showing up in spades. We are grateful to all of our Board members, who, without exception, go beyond the call of duty by attending monthly board meetings, heading up committees and dedicating themselves to special projects. We've seen the fruits of their efforts in so many ways: the transformation of our synagogue gift shop, The Little Shop of Horahs, and our fabulous fundraisers, including the Beth Jacob Lottery Night and the incredible Laugh in Peace Tour, both of which contributed significantly to our school and shul. We also want to acknowledge to the myriad unsung heroes who make the daily running of shul business possible.

We are also grateful for our exceptional and dedicated staff, which includes Gina Gatto, our bookkeeper, Marsha Sandler, Krystyna and Czeslaw Kwak and Maria Dolson, our new secretary.

Finally, we want to take this opportunity to acknowledge the incredible response to our tribute to Matt and Fay Schmerling. Both Matt and Fay were overwhelmed and deeply moved by the outpouring of so much love and support. Your generous contributions to the fund named in their honour will go a long way towards helping us rebuild our school and we thank you.

Now that the foundation is firmly in place, we welcome your continued support as together we continue to go "from strength to strength".

With warm regards,

John and Wendy
Your Co-Presidents

MESSAGE FROM THE RABBI

There is little in the world that children look forward to more than summer vacation.

Sure, there are other pleasures to be had: dessert, free time, sports, a favorite movie. But all of the above are over all too soon. Summer vacation stretches on for months. It allows for a whole new level of leisure and play. For adults not privileged to have a summer vacation period that matches children's, any vacation time available gets used up in the summer months. We, too seek to create a space where we can enjoy the world for what it is, enjoy ourselves for what we are, and to live as if we are able to be in the world without having to be so productive all the time, to feel alive just by being.

Kids and vacationing adults are really on to something here. To be full human beings, we cannot work all the time, we cannot exist only as productive beings, we cannot be defined exclusively by our occupations. We need a break. Summer is an ideal time to develop this side of ourselves, to ensure we have multiple answers when someone meets us and asks what we do, instead of merely replying with our occupation. It's nice to be able to respond with hobbies, activities, and familial roles. Still, as all Canadians know, summer days are precious, and though they seem long, they are all too short. Then the wind blows again, and blows us back to "real life" till next summer.

But wait. It just doesn't seem fair to load summer with so much joy, and to relegate the other, grayer months to a workaday routine. This is where the timeless insight of the tradition steps in. The Torah tells us God agrees that we should not limit ourselves to joy only a certain time of the year, that we should not let ourselves be defined by our occupation, that we have an intrinsic value (and right to enjoy ourselves) even when we are not being productive. This is Shabbat. This is a day that one never has to wait long for, set aside for being what we want to be: to be able to engage in the hobbies that help make us who we are, to read, learn, connect, spend time with friends and loved ones, to play. The rabbis of old called it "a foretaste of the world-to-come", meaning a little bit of paradise, which any kid can tell you is another way of saying "summer vacation". Turns out, those kids who unthinkingly pass summer time happily chatting away, content in not accomplishing anything in particular, are on to a great mitzvah.

There is no time when it is easier to integrate Shabbat into your week than during this summer. Late dinners and free time are (hopefully!) in abundance, and a warm breeze on a Havdallah candle lit under the stars creates a warm summer moment that can take the chill out of a Shabbat in the depth of winter. Summer vacation allows kids to be kids; Shabbat allows all humanity to be just a little more human.

FROM THE EDUCATIONAL DIRECTOR

Have you taken a walk in the Beth Jacob Education wing lately? If you have you may have noticed some changes. The bulletin boards have been enhanced and the walls have been painted. A huge thank you goes to Ginette Bromhead for her time and dedication; she spent countless hours beautifying our bulletin boards. And a huge thank you to Stan Kudrats and his staff who were here sprucing up the hallways with new paint and the doors with new varnish. Thank you both for being such committed members of the Beth Jacob community.

Karen Selsberg

There's excitement in the air about the She'arim Hebrew School and Enrichment program that is being launched in September. Building on the foundations set by Gloria Silverman and continued by Fay Schmerling, the She'arim program will continue to provide a quality Jewish education. From Kindergarten through B'nai Mitzvah classes will now incorporate experiential and hands-on lessons. Students in the She'arim program will gain not only Jewish knowledge, but, perhaps even more importantly, they will develop a spiritual connection to Judaism.

In addition to the fundamental classes of Hebrew, holidays, history, Torah, Mitzvot and Israel, the She'arim program an elective program, Chuggim. We recognize that all children learn differently; therefore, classes in the Chuggim program cater to each child's strengths by giving them a chance to participate in something meaningful. Electives include Visual Arts (e.g., sculpture or painting), Performing Arts (e.g., dance or drama), and Music, to name a few. Students who are enrolled in the She'arim program automatically participate in this innovative and hands-on program. The Chuggim program is open to everyone in the Jewish Community from Kindergarten through grade 6.

In all of the She'arim classes students are encouraged to find their own space in Judaism and its traditions. In this way they will form a connection to and a love for Judaism that will last a lifetime. If She'arim sounds like the right program for you, or someone you know, we will be having a She'arim Information Night: Wednesday, June 13 at 7:30. If you are interested in attending, or if you have any questions about the Beth Jacob She'arim program, please call Education Director, Karen Selsberg at 522-1351, ext 18 or email shearim@bethjacobsynagogue.ca

Summer has barely begun, but already it's time to begin thinking about High Holidays. Beth Jacob will be offering stimulating and innovative children's programming during Rosh Hashanah (both days) and Yom Kippur. We are looking for adults (H.S to 120) to be leaders in this wonderful program. Knowledge of Hebrew or high-level Judaism is NOT a requirement. You will be provided with a curriculum and materials. All that is necessary is a love of children and a desire to create a meaningful and exciting atmosphere for our children during the High Holidays. So, if you (or someone you know) tend to have a need to stretch your legs and take a break during Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur services, please contact Karen Selsberg at 522-1351, ext. 18 or email shearim@bethjacobsynagogue.ca and volunteer to help our children.

Karen

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Todah Rabah to Bev Miller for purchasing, preparing and setting up all the items necessary for our Hebrew school model seder on March 25. Bev also enlisted the help of her whole family.

Yasher Koach to Sarah Rashid and Ariella Shapiro who each chose and recited with clarity and dignity, a poem from the book "I Never Saw Another Butterfly", at the Yom HaShoah service on April 11.

Mazel Tov to Daniella Khayutin who participated by marching, singing and dancing together with students from other Hebrew schools at the Community Yom Ha'atzmaut celebration on April 24.

On Sunday, May 13, there will be a special program at our school for our students and their parents as well as prospective students and their parents.

We are now studying the significance of the holiday of Shavuot, which begins the evening of Tuesday, May 22nd, followed by the 1st and 2nd days on Wed., May 23rd and Thurs., May 24th.

HEBREW SCHOOL SHABBAT AND AWARDS

On Saturday, June 9th our students will be participating in the Shabbat service, as will their parents. We will also acknowledge those students who have learned to read Hebrew this year. All the children in the congregation, will join our students, at the end of the service and lead the congregation in Adon Olam.

Some students of the Hebrew school will be receiving awards in Hebrew and Judaic studies in recognition of their work and their accomplishments. We look forward to celebrating with you and your families. Hebrew School is a significant part of your child's life. Please make every effort to attend.

The service begins at 9:15 a.m. and the Torah comes out at 9:45 a.m. All the students who have mastered the Ashrei prayer will lead Ashrei following the chanting of the Haftarah. If you can be in your seats by 10:15 a.m. everyone will be able to relax and enjoy the service. The Hebrew School Shabbat will be followed by a festive Kiddush luncheon for everyone to enjoy.

Looking forward to celebrating with you and your families in shul.

Fay

Fay Schmerling

SHABBAT PARTICIPATION

Yashar Koach to the following children for regularly participating in Shabbat services over the last several weeks: Jamie Morris, Chloe Bromhead, Yonina Kleiman, Joanna and Ethan Orlander, Joshua Shapiro, Oren Miller, Lauren and Dana Schoenberg, Carly Yanover, Max Schwartz, Rina and Julia Gutzin, Ariel and Max Schwartz.
